“A WORD FROM PASTOR DAN”

As I write this note to you this morning Avonell and I are in Logan, West Virginia, our hometown. We both grew up here in a small coal mining community that has not changed much over the years. Today we will attend a family reunion with Avonell's family. Over the weekend we were with my family and had a great time together. We spent a morning reminiscing about our childhood and thanking God for our parents who are now in heaven. I got to hear my older brother, who was saved only 2 years ago, pray out loud for the first time in our circle as we all held hands and thanked God for our parents. What a blessing!

I pray that each of you had a blessed Memorial Day and had the opportunity to remember all that God has done for us in the past.

On Sunday we attended church with my brother Tom and was invited to preach the next time we visit there. We missed being with you on Sunday and prayed for your service and the visiting speaker.

We look forward to our return to Texas next weekend. There is much going on at the Fellowship in the days ahead. Please use the prayer schedule to pray for our Missions team and their trip to Kentucky in the weeks ahead. Also pray for our Vacation Bible School that God would provide the workers and teachers needed to make our VBS successful.

We have 19 students who are preparing to go to camp along with adult chaperones. Let's pray for their safety and that the camp experience would be a giant step in their spiritual maturity.

I am excited to continue our series from the book of Revelation upon my return to the pulpit on Sunday, June 10. We will first look at John's record of seeing Jesus in all His glory in Chapter 1. Then we will study the 7 letters to the 7 churches in Chapters 2 and 3.

As we prepare to look at those seven churches, please ask yourself this question: "What kind of church would my church be, if everyone in it was just like me?" May this study of the churches cause us not only to look deeply at our church as a body, but to look inside of each of us individually and ask what can I do God to make our church the kind of church You want it to be?

Let's not forget our mission: "Tell others how to get to Heaven with the good news of Jesus Christ, and to help those who are on their way to enjoy the trip!" In His Service, Pastor Dan

Dear Fellowship Family, Transition Update:

The PST asks you to join us in a season of prayer through August.

Time for healing and time to learn from 7 churches sermon series, what type of church are we and what strengths a new pastor should have to help us most effectively. Plans are to record this series so that if a message is missed you can review it online. Also, need time for church to grow numerically and financially.

Raw Church Survey Data collected in February in foyer as of May 13th. 21 surveys returned – Thank you! The PST will do a second Church Survey in August. The 1st survey tenor was what we do not want. We need the next survey to focus more on what we want in a new pastor. Both sets of information are needed and will be valuable to the PST's work.

MISSION TRIP 2018: Big Creek Missions-Wheelwright, Kentucky June 9-17

It's time!!!!

The team is busy making last minute preparations and God is busy being faithful to answer all our prayers and provide for all our needs! One of our largest needs was for overnight accommodations going to and from Kentucky... and wow! did He come through for us. On our way we will be staying at First Baptist Gadsden where we served on mission last year. The great news from there is they will just be finishing up a week of VBS on the Friday before we arrive! This is a church that had not had a VBS for several years before last year, so to hear they are doing VBS this year is a great encouragement to those of us who served last year...all our praises go to God for His provision for their VBS and our overnight stay. On mission in 2010 we served in Dixonville, Arkansas at Dixonville Baptist Church. This church was merged with another area church several years back. However, with just a phone call to their Association, the family of God was moved to provide for its own. On our way home we will be staying at Cross Bar C Cowboy Church in Benton, Arkansas. And the church is providing our dinner on this evening, WHAT A BLESSING! Again, all God's provision!!!!

NOW...Just a few reminders for the team:

Our next MT Team meeting is scheduled for Sunday, June 3 following morning service, lunch will be served; everyone going on the trip must be at this meeting. Everything traveling on the trailer to KY needs to be at the church on Wednesday, June 6. The Team will meet at the church at 4:30am on Saturday, June 9 and depart at 5am. For Saturday everyone needs to bring a sack lunch. If you have any questions please see Maudell.

Last but certainly not the least, we thank our church family for your prayers, continued support in this manner is greatly coveted in our final days of preparation. A couple of weeks ago a prayer guide was provided, as each of those listed are important we do ask for special emphasis on prayer for travel. The sheer distance is a concern and on Sunday, June 10 we will need to arrive in Wheelwright somewhere between 3 and 4:00pm in the evening for orientation. Again we thank you, our church family for your prayers, and most of all we thank God for what He has done, and what He will do over the week we are in Wheelwright.

Below is a list of supplies needed to support the team and the mission in Wheelwright, please note the items needed for recreation are addition to the list that was supplied in the Sunday bulletin. VBS FINAL PLANNING WORKSHOP FOR ALL VOLUNTEERS SATURDAY, JUNE 23 10:00A-12:00P

Women's Ministry On the Thursday afternoon before Memorial Day, I (Fonda) surprised my grandchildren by whisking them away to Matagorda Bay after their last day of school. I met them at the front door with the greeting, "Last Day of School!" My granddaughter looked at me funny and replied, "First Day of Summer!" Ahh, to always have such a positive view of life. Which has me thinking.... We have just wrapped up our Tuesday night Bible study for the spring. The ten-week inductive study of Ephesians was just what I needed. Those six short chapters hold quite a punch. In them we learned of our identity in Christ, the blessings that are ours because of His completed work on the cross, and the importance and value of the local church. We received encouragement and admonition to walk in a manner worthy of our calling, in love, as children of light, and as wise women. Specifically, we discussed the areas of unity and maturity in the body, putting off the old and putting on the new, living obediently in our relationships, and standing firm against the enemy in the whole armor of God. Sometimes that last list comes across as a "Last Day of School" attitude...but when we realize the relevance of the truths in the first list, it gets turned upside down to a "First Day of Summer" attitude. No longer is it about what we are 'supposed to do' but obedience as a response of praise for what He has already done in our lives.

Keep a watch on this space as we will be announcing our fall Bible study soon.

Happy Summer, y'all!

"Now to him who is able to do far more abundantly than all that we ask or think, according to the power at work within us, to him be glory in the church and in Christ Jesus throughout all generations, forever and ever. Amen." Ephesians 3:20-21

GRACE TO ALL

God allowed Georgia and her happy dog, Jazzie, to share her home with our senior ladies again this month for prayer, fellowship, lunch, and sharing of God's Word. Our ladies are blessed with the beautiful landscaped home, countryside spotted with open pastures, trees, exotic animals and picturesque skies to help bring peace and focus to our Lord's creation.

Because of the sadness and hurt that fell on our country, community, and families this month, our ladies lifted many up to our Lord in dedicated prayer. We even prayed for those that felt no hope. As we prayed, Jesus unlocked the door, Jesus heard, and hope was revealed and many prayers answered.

We thanked God for watching over Jenelle when she was away the past few weeks and now welcome her back home. Jenelle prepared a delicious meal of beans and cornbread this past week in memory of Gracie, which would have been age 92 this month. (Our first senior lady Bible study was in Gracie's home more than 2 years ago.)

Our May study was focused on Letters to God's People. We must focus on Jesus and desire to follow His spirit. We know we are weak, but God strengthens us through His spirit to fight against powers of this world. We had a study on being greedy and the meaning of generous. God has been merciful and generous by giving us his son, Jesus. Are we empowered by our Lord to be merciful and generous to others? I pray we do not belong to an idol factory, but to ask God to help us love Him more and us to have a desire to please Him in a more powerful way. We summed up the month of May, because Jesus gave faith and hope to all that have gone before us and will be fulfilled when He returns. We have assurance of God's promises.

Thank you, Georgia, for sharing your home with us this month. I thank God for giving His Word to study and share. (Marla)

HUNGRY FOR THE WORD... MID-WEEK FILL-UP

Peter's Mother-in-Law Mark 1:29-31

"Now as soon as they had come out of the synagogue, they entered the house of Simon and Andrew, with James and John. But Simon's wife's mother lay sick with a fever, and they told Him about her at once. So He came and took her by the hand and lifted her up and immediately the fever left her. And she served them."

What do you think motivated her to serve them? The Greek word translated "wait" means to be an attendant, to wait upon, and also "to minister to." It's likely she felt a sense of gratitude, thankfulness. When our acts of service are motivated by gratitude toward God, our perspective is right. Are you currently serving out of gratitude and love for our Father? Consider your motivations for your service. Ask God to reveal truth and correct our hearts as we go forth, walking with Him. (Excerpts from Eye Witness to Majesty - Peter, by Mindy Ferguson).

JOIN US for our Mid-week fill up every Wednesday evening @ 6:15 for a light dinner (n/c) (nourished/physically equipped), and fellowship followed by Bible Study (nourished by the Word) @ 6:45pm. Hope to see you soon, April G

FOOD PANTRY Our current pantry needs are: vienna sausage, spam, canned meats, pancake mix, syrup, pasta, crackers, bath soap, and milk. Suggestions for milk are powdered milk (the individual packets are preferred) or if you are able to find it (we found it at the dollar store) there is a real milk out there that does not need refrigeration until the package is opened. Please continue in prayer for our pantry, prayers for the why we do this ministry (to share Christ with those in need), prayers for the effectiveness of this ministry, and specifically for prayers those we serve through it. Even though the names of those we serve through the pantry are kept confidential (unless they wish to share their experience) we can pray confidently for these because God knows them and their needs.

Thank you again for supporting our pantry, volunteers are always welcomed.

JOYFUL NOISE It is summer and we have already started seeing temperatures in the mid to upper 90's with high humidity. Southeast Texas summers will make you wonder if the Lord loves us – and whether the weather is intended to make us stronger or just beat us into submission. If you are a couch potato and never go outside – the heat is a killer. If you have to work out in the heat, it can still be a killer, but you learn to cope and do things to keep your body working.

I remember in my younger days when my brother and I would be working for our father in his construction business. We built houses – usually for a developer who would be building a subdivision with hundreds of homes planned. The work gets subdivided into specialized crafts in a setting like that where the basic house construction becomes compartmentalized into the foundation, the frame, the cornice (outside trim), the siding, the decking for the roof and then the roof. Once the siding or brick is complete and the roof is on and the exterior trim is done – the house is in its "dried in" stage where the mechanical contractors can come in to do the plumbing pipes, electrical wiring and boxes for outlets and lights, air conditioning equipment and supply lines are run and any other items that require preparation before insulation can be installed and the interior walls and ceiling covered.

My Father, brother and I did the foundations ourselves. We set every form and double and triple checked every side for length, every house was checked with diagonal measurements to make sure that the house was square. We started the process with a surveyor's transit – an instrument that we used to determine the elevation of the structure. Careful attention has to be paid to these early choices because the entire structure's outcome depends on getting every dimension correct and the usefulness of the home to future residents depends on all of these factors being accurate.

Toting heavy lumber, driving stakes into hard ground with a sledge hammer and nailing hundreds of stakes to make a form is labor intensive. When it gets hot, the challenge only grows. We wore long sleeve white cotton shirts and your skin would tan – darkly – right through the fabric. We were drenched in sweat and if you didn't drink enough water, then you would definitely get a headache. The work was hard and the environment made it harder. Before a single stake was driven, we had to cut dozens of boards into the pointed stakes that we would be using. Depending on the soil and the height of the form, we might need 3' long stakes for the uprights and 4' long stakes for the bracing stake that would hold the form exactly on the building line – we called those the kickers since they kicked out at an angle. Every upright stake had a kicker and every form board was nailed tightly and snugly to the upright stakes to make sure that when the form was filled with concrete – it would hold the pressure of the concrete and allow the foundation to take on its intended design.

You might think that none of this has anything to do with worship or ministry or the Christian life, but the environment for ministry can be a harsh one. Not all of your family or friends will love the fact that you are a believer who wants to share the love of God with them. In order to make sure that they hear the good news, you will have to be prepared. You will need to know the plan and understand the kind of preparation that must be done to execute the plan. Careful attention needs to be paid to our choices so that the future outcome will reflect our intended purpose. When it gets too difficult, you may need refreshment and encouragement.

Church is where we prepare for the spiritual work that we will do the rest of the week. What happens when you leave church is where the "construction" begins. Seeing how many people we can get to meet together is not the end goal – meeting is the place where we are refreshed, where we are encouraged and where we learn more about how to lay the right foundation so that the building that gets built is both strong, beautiful and functions like it is intended to function.

The things we do are not intended as the end – they are the means to achieve the end which is to make disciples. Worship isn't Christian Karaoke – it is our focused attention on God from a heart of gratitude. Bible study is the time when we meet together as believers – connecting with one another intimately and receiving instruction from God's Word and encouragement from each other. The sermon is crafted so that we can grow in our understanding of God's Word and so that we are all equipped to obey the command to go and share the gospel with everyone we meet. Be encouraged – the work is hard, but God knows our every need, He has a perfect plan and He will provide step by step instructions.

SUNDAY SCHOOL

How is your spiritual tank? Is your life filled with the worries and tasks of the world? How about getting a refill on Wednesday evenings and Sunday mornings? Do you understand how important it is to God that you make time to be with Him daily? It is so important that He always pursues you and desires time with you no matter what your schedule is. Don't let busyness dictate your life and keep you from seeking time to be with God, worshiping and glorifying His name with fellow Christians.

So, come join us...

- ✦ In fellowship together as God intended us to do honoring, worshiping and glorifying His name.
- ✦ As we serve the one and only God who has provided for all our needs by loving us and forgiving us.
- ✦ And fill your spiritual tank with God's love and strength to share with others in the world.

1 Corinthians 10:3-4 "They all ate the same spiritual food and drank the same spiritual drink; for they drank from the spiritual rock that accompanied them, and that rock was Christ." (NIV)

CONNECT Student Ministry

Well, here we are approaching the busiest time of year here in the student ministry. We have just wrapped up a study on the topic of God's Word. We looked into how God's Word is not just an old book we ask them to read but how it is God's personal revelation to us about how we can have a relationship with Him and live according to His good and perfect will for our lives. My hope is that within His good and perfect will is where the students are striving to be this summer. This summer is going to provide lots of opportunities for our students to serve, and to grow in their relationships with God and other believers. Several of them will be serving on our mission team and at VBS this year. Also, because God is so good, He has provided (through His church) above and beyond the finances needed for all of the students who signed up to go to camp this year. My prayer is that when they go back to school next year people cannot help but notice what God has done in their life.

As we are approaching another graduation season, it has made me stop and reflect on some of the great qualities I have seen here in this group of students. They are very genuine, they don't mind asking questions about things they don't understand, and they are willing to serve when asked. These are only a few of the qualities I hope are passed down to our younger students and will continue on through the years. On June 3rd, we will be having an opportunity to celebrate the legacy one of these students has had on our student ministry. We will be recognizing their achievement during our Sunday service and, following the service, we will have a short reception in their honor. We would love for you to come.

COUPLES CLASS: We are continuing to Explore the Bible with a study of 2 Samuel. We will continue to meet in the sanctuary. Couples of all ages are welcome. Please, come and join us in studying 2 Samuel. Wendell & Cynthia

Come be a part of our exciting adventure as we continue our journey thru the Bible studying the books of Joshua, Judges, & Ruth in Children's Church. We will learn the Israelites finally make it to the Promised Land, learn why they have so many battles once they are there, like the famous battle of Jericho & learn about the great love story of Ruth and Boaz! Please continue to invite your family & friends to join us...we love to see new faces. ~Mrs. Cindy

NURSERY NEWS: First, I want to thank God for leading our little children to their class at Fellowship @ Fieldstore. Second, I thank the parents and grandparents for bringing the children to class and preparing them to hear God's Word and that Jesus loves them. Third, I thank Anita for being with our little ones on Wednesday night. Everyone loves Anita, because she loves God. Then I want to say thank you to our teenagers that had jumped in to help with the children.

In May our focus was "People at church helps me." So, we looked at John 13:2-5, where Jesus helped his friends. Also, we looked into 1 Corinthians 12:28, and read God gives us people to help us.

We had Mother's Day weekend this month, so our children traced their hands and feet to represent prayer, and holding Jesus/mom/grand- mother hand so we can grip tightly in God's guided plan. Of course, the feet represented the pitter patter of the little feet stepping behind mom/grandmother as they follow the footsteps of Jesus. Attached to our traced little hands and feet was a small candy bag, to tell mom/grandmother how sweet she is and how much she is loved.

Prayers for our children and families this month.

More Nursery News... God continues to bless us with little people. Nursery/Pre-K workers needed during church service. Let Cynthia know when you can serve. Extra thanks to Anita and Jeannie for covering Nursery and Pre-K on Wednesday nights.

Prayer Chain

Our all-powerful & all-knowing God has chosen to let us help Him change the world through our prayers. "Therefore confess your sins to each other and pray for each other so that you might be healed. The prayer of a righteous man is powerful and effective." (James 5:16 NIV) Text Linda Wallingford at 936-520-8441 with your prayer requests. The search committee would like to introduce Steve Doyle to you. Steve and his wife Heather are both missionary kids. Steve grew up in Quito, Ecuador and Heather in Burkina Faso in western Africa. They have five children ranging in age from 19-6. Through their service with Safe Families for Children, a program similar to short-term foster care, they have had 18 children come through their home.
